Are you a startup brand, well established company, in the UK or worldwide? It doesn't matter. We work with a range of clients.

We know it's hard for brands to setup an online experience, and budgets can be tight. We like to help new brands grow and work in a long term relationship.

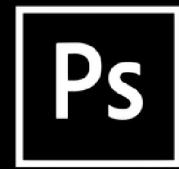

And we also have the experience of designing, building, testing and launching websites for large global organisations. We can be an extension of your in-house marketing team or take advantage of our expert team to be your complete digital arm.

We approach every project with a clear vision.

We like to remove the 'waffle' and design beautiful, easy to use websites that are functional.

We don't just build pretty websites. Here at MadeByShape we understand all aspects of a successful site from design through web development and testing, to SEO and Hosting. We tailor our service to the client and the project requirement.

We handle every project in-house, we don't outsource.

We're a strong team of 11, we know how much work we can take on - and we let clients know if there will be a delay. Every project we take on is produced in-house, no outsourcing involved. If we feel we're not the right fit for your project, we will do use our digital industry experience to recommend a suitable agency for you.
